BREED THEATER.

The Indian Trailer, Western Motion Picture.

As a fitting close of the big holiday week, Manager McNulty has secured the powerful western motion picture. The Indian Trailer, a picture that is a thriller from start to finish, teming with Indian attacks and equally as thrilling repulses by the cowboys, with breathless rides across prairie and over mountains.

over mountains.

The balance of the interesing pro-curamme includes such high-grade pic-tures of The Way to Happiness, The Sand Man, Little Miss Muffett, Eddie the Real Live One, Officer McCue, Mr. nquisitive, many of them being extra the comedy.

The hot weather bill of moving pictores at the Auditorium has proved popular, with large crowds in attendance the early part of the week. For the last three days of the week a most attractive list of pictures has been provided. The headline picture. The Right to Labor, shows some interesting and dramatic vviews on the labor question, also the interior of a modern steel foundry. The Rapids of Fails of Eannefoxen, Swedien, is a most beautiful scenic subject by the celebrated Peath Press of Paris. The biograph feature for Thursday consists of two judicrous comedy subjects, entitled Jones and the Lady Book Agent, and A French Duel. Other pictures are A Skylight Theater Seat, His Lucky Day, Father's First Haif Holiday, and others.

CROWD OF HOODLUMS.

Pelice Obliged to Take in Four Before They Abated Their Trouble-making About the City.

Tuesday night Capt. Linton received action of boys and young men in the action of boys and young men in the atreets. One woman thought the fakirs ought to be protected as a crowd was taking away their goods. Policeman Royston also sent in a call for assistance in his section and it was given, the orders being given to break up the gang if it was necessary to make arrests. A fruit stand in front of fone store was knocked down and the crowd attempted to follow a merchant into his store. The sheet upon which moving pictures were being thrown in Bath street was torn down.

The police found it necessary to arrest four of the young men charged with breach of the peace.

The adventures of Chingachgook. Uncas and Hawkeye, which have delighted so many generations of readers, are here published in a form suitable for pupils of the grammar grades, as one of the well known series of Eclectic Readers. Attractive full page pictures illustrate this adaptation of what is unfoubtedly the best known of Cooper's many tales of Indian savagery and warfare.

Cooper's Adventures of Pathfinder.
Adapted for school reading by Adapted for school reading by Margaret N. Haight. Cloth, 12mo, 144 pages, with illustrations. American Book company. Price.

A thorough abridgment of Cooper's famous story, in which all lengthy descriptions, tedious conversations, moral reflections, and other unnessary details have been carefully omitted. Cooper's own words, the atmosphere of the original novel, have been retained wherever possible. Several attractive full page pictures illustrate the story.

company. Price, 25 cents.

This book was prepared in direct response to the cry of business men in general, "The boys sent to us from the public schools do not know how to spell" It embodies the method of teaching spelling which after two years' use enabled the pupils of the Cleveland schools to win the victory in the National Education association spelling contest of 1908. It covers six school years, from the third to the eighth inclusive, and contains about 6,009 words in all. Of these 1,800 are selected for intensive study, two being made prominent in each lesson.

Costume of Prelates of the Catholic Church, according to Roman Etiquette. By Rev. J. A. Nainfa, S. S., professor of church history and liturgy, St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore, Md. 12mo, illustrated. Cloth. Published by the John Murphy company, Baltimore, Md. Price 21.50 net.

This is the only book published in the English language on the matter of prelatial etiquette, except possibly the writings of Mgr. Barbier de Montault, we find scarely anything treating ex professo on this question. It will be found valuable and interesting to prelates and clergy and the public at large who may wish to know something about the uniform which the Catholic church, like all other constituted bodies; imposes upon her ministers. With regard to the various costumes worm by prelates the will of the church has been that modifications, however excellent and in some respect justifiable, should not be left to private fancy; for she clearly foresaw that, after a short lapse of years, such toleration would practically do away with a unity at

Robert Chambers has an aptitude for creating striking titles for his books which arrest attention and pique curiosity. "The Fighting Hope," "The Winning Chance," "The Fighting Line" are familiar names, and to these must now be added another—the title of the new book which is to be published in the autumn and will be called "The Danger Mark."

E. F. Benson contributes two books to the coming season. One of them is called "The Reaping" and consists of a series of idyllic essays, each chapter covering a particular month of the year, and all bound together by a thread of a story. Mr. Benson's second book, "The Fascinating Mrs. Halton." is more in character with his recent book, "The Climber."

Mrs. Sophie Mayer of New York is believed to be the first woman lawyer to ify a case in a foreign country. Her client is a New York man who was remembered in the will of an aunt who died in Austria leaving an estate of more than $300,000. The will is to be contested and Mrs. Mayer has received permission to appear in the Austrian courts.

East St. Louis, Ill., July 6.—At a riot at the National stock yards today Chief of Detectives Ryan shot and killed William James, a negro. S. T. Byrne and William Rice, white, were shot in the hips and five mules were killed. The wounded men will recover.

The trouble began during a horse trader. City detectives went to the trader's assistance and James began firing. He took refuge in a barn and a riot call was turned in. Citizens joined the police in shooting at the negro, who returned the fire until he was killed in the barn, where he had finally hidden behind some mules.
